The privacy policies and credit reporting policies contain information about how you may access or seek correction of your personal information and credit-related information, how that information is managed, how you may complain about a breach of your privacy and how that complaint will be dealt with. They also contain information on 'notifiable matters' including things such as the information we use to assess your creditworthiness, the fact that CRBs (credit reporting bodies) may provide your personal information and credit-related information to credit providers to assist in an assessment of your credit worthiness, what happens if you fail to meet your credit obligations or commit a serious credit infringement – including our right to report a default or a serious credit infringement to CRBs, your right to request that CRBs not use your credit-related information for the purposes of pre-screening credit offers, and your right to request a CRB not to use or disclose credit-related information about you if you believe you are a victim of fraud.

Consumer and commercial credit-related information. If we use these methods and are unable to verify your identity in this way we will let you know. We may also use information about your Australian Passport, state or territory driver license, Medicare card, citizenship certificate, birth certificate, and any other identification documents to match those details with the relevant registries using third party systems and record the results of that matching.
